World

August 2026 will be bad for Syria, Pakistan due to Lunar and Solar Eclipse.

Russia Ukraine issue won't be settled soon.

May 2026 can bring diplomatic Frost for Russia: International relations face severe "karmic" restrictions, resulting in the hardening of sanctions or the collapse of key alliances

Rahu transiting over 7th and ketu in lagna suggests that while Iran may look aggressive and powerful on the world stage (Rahu), the foundation at home is being systematically dissolved (Ketu), making the state highly vulnerable to a sudden, internal collapse.

Iran: The state's legal and religious frameworks (9th House) undergo a "cleansing by fire," where existing laws are aggressively restricted or rewritten to serve the military's (Mars) need for control.

World

Pakistan: After December 5th 2026, Rahu will create an insatiable, often chaotic drive for power within the central leadership, leading to unconventional governance or sudden, shocking "coups" in the administrative structure.

Pakistan: Severing of domestic peace, often resulting in territorial loss or a massive internal migration/displacement

2027: China will enter a phase of hyper-nationalism and a radical, almost obsessive focus on re-branding its national identity, likely leading to unconventional or high-risk leadership decisions.

Turkey: Rahu Ketu signals "karmic hollowing" of the national treasury, likely manifesting as radical currency instability or sudden, massive foreign debt shock

Saudi Arabia's relations with its neighbors will be spoiled.

World

Dissolution of Structures and Power Shifts: Old institutions, governments, and social hierarchies may erode or collapse, similar to historical precedents. This could manifest as political instability, regime changes, or the breakdown of 20th-century geopolitical systems, particularly in regions like Russia (facing existential crises in governance and potential internal fragmentation) or South America (with economic restructuring and social movements). Globally, expect shifting alliances, border disputes, and challenges to authority, potentially leading to lawlessness or abuses of power if boundaries dissolve unchecked.

World

Technological and Reality-Blurring Advances: This transit often aligns with quantum leaps in technology that blur the lines between real and artificial. Expect accelerations in AI, deepfakes, and digital manipulation, raising questions about authenticity and exacerbating misinformation on a global scale. This could foster innovation but also collective disorientation, like living in a "waking dream" where facts and illusions intermingle.

World

Social and Ideological Upheaval: Visionary movements, radical uprisings, and fights for liberation may surge, driven by a clash between empathy (Neptune) and discipline (Saturn). However, this friction can also burst idealistic bubbles, leading to disillusionment, propaganda, and crises of faith in institutions like religion or politics. Themes of oppression dissolving could spark revolutions or wars, especially with Aries' martial energy amplifying conflicts.

World

Environmental and Humanitarian Concerns: Saturn-Neptune ties to cold, moisture, oil, gas, and pollution suggest risks of extreme weather events, marine environmental threats, or epidemics affecting populations. On a positive note, it could inspire strategic efforts toward global empathy, such as addressing climate change or humanitarian crises through innovative, boundary-dissolving approaches.

World

Overall, while challenging—potentially bringing confusion, instability, and the "gut punch" of disillusionment—this conjunction also opens doors to reimagining society with greater compassion and innovation. Effects vary by national charts and other transits, but the emphasis is on strategic adaptation amid flux.

World

Globally, expect escalated ideological or resource-based conflicts (e.g., proxy wars, cyber/psychological battles), environmental disasters (floods, pollution), economic shocks in energy/pharma sectors, and collective pushes for humanitarian action amid confusion. Mars' fire in watery Pisces warns of "steamroller" effects—dissolving boundaries through force, bursting bubbles in faiths/institutions, or innovative yet chaotic breakthroughs in tech/spirituality.

Australia

Potential for national prosperity, harmonious alliances, and gains through diplomacy, arts, or luxury sectors.

Venus suggesting enhanced beauty, wealth, and feminine energies (e.g., women's roles will increase or creative industries)

Government authority or leaders influencing natural resources, agriculture, real estate price, land, and the opposition party, but there will be weather related fluctuations affecting agriculture.

Disciplined efforts towards gains in judiciary, religion, higher education, foreign trade, long-distance travel, national reputation, administration but with delays.

Australia

Structured reforms in government or legal systems, but with a sense of isolation or challenges in international relations.

Agriculture, Land, and Domestic Affairs: The 4th lord Sun in the 11th predicts profits from real estate or mining, but potential disruptions from weather or environmental issues (Pisces influence). Opposition parties may gain parliamentary voice, leading to debates on domestic policies.

Agriculture, Land, and Resources: Afflicted 4th (Ketu, malefic aspects) warns of challenges in farming, mining, or real estate—droughts, floods (Pisces influence on Sun), or market volatility. Mars' aspect hints at disputes over land/borders, while Mercury's intellectual input could bring innovative solutions or speculative booms/busts. Gains from resources (Sun in 11th) are likely, but delayed by Saturn, with foreign investments (Rahu/12th Mars) playing a risky role.

Australia

Challenges and Risks: Mars-Rahu conjunction is a major caution—potential for aggressive events, accidents, violence, cyber issues, or political intrigue. Combined with 12th lordship, watch for espionage, hidden scandals, or financial drains. Public discontent (from 11th Moon-Saturn) may amplify if governmental missteps occur.

Challenges and Risks: Mars' aspects amplify tensions—diplomatic strains, financial speculations gone awry, or public discontent (Moon-Saturn link). Combined with nodal afflictions, watch for sudden events in government or domestic spheres. Venus' strength provides resilience, mitigating extremes.

Australia

Challenges and Risks: Potential for public depression, communication breakdowns, or transport crises (e.g., weather/disruptions in Pisces). Combined with 10th house malefices (Mars-Rahu-Mercury retro from prior), scandals or leadership strains could amplify public dissatisfaction.

Challenges and Risks: Earthquakes, impacting morale, or sudden policy shifts, compounds domestic hardships, with potential for health/environmental crises in rural areas. Jupiter offers some protection through wisdom but expect transformative lows before gains.

Challenges and Risks: The Mars-Rahu conjunction warns of accidents, violence, or sudden governmental falls, especially in transport/comms. Jupiter may exaggerate crises like natural disasters (8th) impacting economy, compounds public anxiety.

Australia

Challenges and Risks: The Moon-Saturn conjunction warns of public hardships, such as economic inequality, health concerns (especially mental), or natural events affecting transport (3rd house). Avoid over-optimism in aspirations, as Saturn may bring sobering realities by year-end.

Communications, Media, and Transportation: Strong 3rd lord influence in 11th suggests gains through media, tech, or transport sectors—e.g., booming digital economy, innovative broadcasting, or infrastructure profits. Moon here could mean public-focused campaigns succeed, but Moon-Saturn warns of restrictions, censorship debates, transport delays/accidents, or misinformation issues. Short travels or regional ties may fluctuate.

Creativity, Arts, Entertainment, and Youth: National creative industries (film, arts, sports) gain governmental attention, possibly through policies or funding, but afflicted Mercury indicates disruptions—strikes, censorship debates, or innovative but erratic outputs. Youth (5th house) may express discontent with leadership (10th), leading to movements or generational tensions amplified by Rahu's illusionary drive.

Australia

Creativity, Education, Speculation, and Youth (5th house): Mars' aspect on 5th (already afflicted via 5th lord Mercury retro in 10th with Mars-Rahu) predicts turbulence—innovative but risky policies in education/speculation, youth unrest/protests, or volatile markets (stocks/crypto). Creative sectors boom aggressively but face conflicts or setbacks. Jupiter's aspect on 10th offers some protective wisdom.

Domestic Peace and Public Happiness: Ketu in 4th predicts disruptions to national contentment—possible public unrest, emotional detachment, or spiritual/environmental movements addressing domestic issues. Aspects from Mars and Rahu suggest conflicts or illusions exacerbating this, leading to protests or opposition gains mid-year. However, Sun in 11th offers authoritative resolutions through parliament, with potential for welfare reforms.

Australia

Economy and Gains: Strong potential for economic growth and profits, driven by exalted Venus. Australia may see increased revenue from trade, investments, or luxury exports (e.g., tourism, arts, or commodities). However, Saturn suggests delays or austerity measures, possibly leading to controlled inflation or budget reforms. Overall, a positive year for national income, with gains peaking mid-year.

Economy and Income: Exalted Venus drives overall prosperity and gains from creative/communicative fields. Public involvement boosts social enterprises or crowd-funded initiatives. However, malefic conjunctions indicate uneven distribution—gains for some, hardships for masses, or debt-linked pressures.

Economy and Losses/Expenses: Fluctuations in national wealth—initial ambitious investments in tech/speculation, but risks of heavy expenditures, budget deficits, or losses through foreign ventures. Mercury indicates revisions in financial policies or banking reforms; Jupiter's aspect may bring eventual gains via legislative fixes.

Australia

Economy and Wealth: Expansion in national reserves, banking, or food/agriculture, possibly through resource booms or policy reforms. However, afflictions suggest fluctuations—initial gains mid-year, but potential scandals or inflationary pressures by late 2026. Rahu's influence may bring unconventional wealth (e.g., crypto or tech investments), but risks of fraud or losses due to Mars. Mid-year stabilization possible.

Education and Higher Learning: Mercury suggests revisions or delays in national education policies, university reforms, or intellectual initiatives. Government may push innovative/tech-driven programs (Aquarius influence), but Mars-Rahu warns of controversies, funding disputes, or scandals in academia. Jupiter offers eventual wisdom or international collaborations benefiting higher education but expect mid-year setbacks.

Losses, Expenses, and Foreign Affairs: Mars ties losses to government—heavy spending on foreign isolation, secrets, or diplomatic ventures, potentially beneficial for long-term gains but risky. Rahu amplifies hidden foreign entanglements or espionage scandals affecting reputation. Positive side: spiritual or liberating outcomes from expenses, like aid programs enhancing fortune. Jupiter's 8th lordship adds transformative crises turning losses into opportunities.

Australia

Education, Youth, Speculation, and Creativity (5th lord Mercury retro): Government pushes innovative education/tech policies, but afflicted—delays, controversies in universities, youth protests, or volatile markets (stocks/crypto). Mars' energy sparks creative breakthroughs but risks conflicts or accidents involving youth.

Foreign and Diplomatic Ties: Mars (7th/12th lord) aspecting 4th ties partnerships/losses to domestic affairs—possible trade agreements benefiting land, but with hidden costs or enmities. Rahu's illusionary aspect warns of deceptive foreign deals affecting resources.

Foreign Relations and Diplomacy (7th lord): Key focus—trade agreements, alliances, or disputes with partners/neighbors. Mars drives assertive diplomacy (e.g., regional security pacts), but risks open enmities, trade wars, or strained relations. Rahu adds foreign intrigue or unconventional partnerships; 12th lordship suggests hidden costs or isolation in international affairs.

Australia

Foreign Relations and Diplomacy: Mars (7th/12th lord) in 10th with Rahu points to strained alliances or secretive dealings abroad, potentially benefiting from bold moves but risking isolation. Jupiter's aspect on 10th and its 6th/8th aspects suggest litigations or crises in international trade, with opportunities for transformative pacts (8th own house).

Foreign Relations and Trade: The 9th lord Saturn in the 11th indicates gains from international partnerships, but with hurdles like trade disputes or diplomatic strains. Australia might form new alliances (11th house) with neighboring countries (influenced by 3rd lord Moon), but expect delays in legal or religious matters. Travel and higher education sectors could see regulated expansion.

Australia

Government and Administration: Mars in 10th energizes leadership—aggressive reforms, defense/military focus, or bold policy initiatives. But conjunction with Rahu and Mercury retro warns of scandals, leadership controversies, deceptive dealings, or sudden policy reversals. Expect dynamic changes in cabinet or ruling structure, possibly mid-year upheavals.

Government and Administration: With the 10th lord Saturn in the 11th, the government could achieve legislative successes, such as passing reforms in parliament. However, Sun-Saturn tension points to challenges for leaders—possible scandals, resignations, or policy gridlocks. The ruling party may strengthen alliances but face opposition criticism (4th lord Sun involved).

Australia

Government and Leadership: The 10th house cluster dominates, predicting dynamic but unstable administration—bold reforms in creative/speculative areas, but risks of scandals, policy flip-flops (retrograde), or aggressive diplomacy backfiring. Jupiter's aspect provides protective grace, perhaps through wise advisors or economic gains mitigating crises.

Government and Politics: The 10th house cluster (Mercury retro, Mars, Rahu) under Jupiter's aspect indicates dynamic but turbulent administration—possible leadership changes, policy U-turns (retrograde), or aggressive reforms in trade/law. Mars as 7th lord hints at diplomatic conflicts with partners (e.g., trade wars), while 12th lord suggests hidden expenses or foreign espionage. Jupiter's aspect provides some stability, predicting successful legal overhauls, but Sun-Saturn in 11th (from prior) adds parliamentary gridlock.

Australia

Health, Labor, and Enemies: Jupiter's aspect on 6th foretells health sector expansions or debt management, but possible epidemics or labor disputes (afflicted by debilitation). Public service reforms may succeed but face opposition.

Health, Service, and Enemies: Venus as 6th lord in own stellium (exalted) offers strength in overcoming obstacles—health sector gains or labor reforms succeed. Yet, afflictions warn of epidemics, service sector strikes, or legal battles impacting public welfare.

Jupiter's Mitigating Aspect: From debilitated position, Jupiter offers protective wisdom—possible successful crisis management (8th), economic recoveries (11th), or philosophical reforms in government. It tempers extremes, suggesting long-term gains if short-term chaos is navigated.

Australia

National assertiveness rises—defense/military strengthening, bold foreign policy, or internal drive. But risks disputes with partners, hidden losses/expenses, accidents, or inflammatory events affecting morale. Mars energizes but warns of over-aggression.

National Vitality and Identity: Exalted Venus predicts overall strength, diplomatic success, and enhanced global image—Australia may shine in international alliances, creative exports, tourism, or women's/arts sectors. Gains from harmonious partnerships or welfare policies likely.

Obstacles, Debts, Health, and Service Sectors: Venus exalted turns challenges into advantages—possible resolution of debts/litigations, competitive edges in labor/service industries, or health sector advancements (e.g., medical exports). However, Saturn/Moon suggests lingering public health concerns, service strikes, or inequality-driven enmities. Victories over rivals possible through strategy.

Australia

Opposition and Political Dynamics: Sun and Saturn indicates opposition parties influencing legislative gains, possibly through alliances. But Ketu weakens their base, suggesting fragmentation or sudden losses. Rahu-Mars in points to governmental scandals affecting opposition, or aggressive policies impacting domestic politics.

Parliament and Legislative Gains: Active parliamentary sessions yielding results in income-related laws. Debates on public issues, land/domestic policies, or health/service reforms dominate. Success likely in alliances or group efforts, but Saturn's presence brings delays, austerity, or tough negotiations.

Parliament, Gains, and Alliances: Stellium focus ensures active legislative gains—reforms in economy, foreign trade, domestic issues, or communications. Exalted Venus fosters compassionate or aesthetic policies succeeding in parliament.

Australia

Speculation, Stock Markets, and Investments: Afflicted 5th lord points to volatile financial markets—sudden booms followed by crashes or corrections. Speculative sectors (stocks, crypto, gambling) see high activity but risks of fraud, losses, or regulatory crackdowns. Jupiter's aspect may stabilize gains long-term through legislative reforms, but caution against over-optimism.

Mesha Rashi

- 2026 begins for Mesha natives with a mix of powerful movement and karmic refinement. With Śani continuing his slow march through Mīna (12th bhāva) the entire year, the backdrop of 2026 carries the flavor of Sade–Sati’s final phase, bringing deep internal churning, completion of past karmas, increased spiritual withdrawal, and expenses that demand discipline. While Śani tests patience and detaches you from unnecessary burdens, Guru, Maṅgala, and Rāhu–Ketu shape the material outcomes of the year.
- From 23 February–2 April, Maṅgala moves through Kumbha (11th), a highly auspicious transit for Mesha. Desires manifest quickly, income grows, support from friends arrives, and long-delayed projects gain momentum. This is one of the best windows of 2026 for financial growth.
- From 2 April–11 May, Maṅgala enters Mīna (12th), joining Śani’s domain. This is a spiritually charged but materially challenging phase. Expenses rise sharply, sleep becomes disturbed, hidden enemies may stir, and energy drops. Avoid confrontations and unnecessary risks. This is a time to retreat, heal, and regain inner strength.

Mesha Rashi

- On 11 May, Maṅgala enters Meṣa (lagna)—a dramatic turning point. Vitality, courage, self-confidence, and initiative return. This 11 May–20 June period brings new beginnings, personal transformation, and strong individuality. But aggression must be controlled, as Mars in the first house magnifies ego and impatience.
- Guru shifts into Karka (4th) on 2 June, creating a mix of opportunities and challenges. Emotions intensify, property matters surface, and matters relating to home, family peace, vehicles, and inner stability come into focus. This is not a favorable transit traditionally; one must guard against domestic tensions, emotional turbulence, and health issues related to chest or digestion.
- Maṅgala enters Vṛṣabha (2nd) on 20 June. Financial matters, savings, and family relationships dominate the mind. Mars here can bring both wealth and conflict—harsh speech must be controlled. Avoid arguments with family members.
- Budha becomes retrograde again 29 June–23 July, affecting trading, documents, communication, and short travel. Double-check all paperwork.
- From 2 June–30 October, with Guru in the 4th, avoid major property purchases unless the horoscope is supportive.

Mesha Rashi

- From 2 August–18 September, Maṅgala moves into Mithuna (3rd)—a result-giving, active placement. This is a strong time for marketing, real estate agents, sales, entrepreneurs, influencers, media persons, and anyone working through communication.
- Maṅgala enters Karka (4th) on 18 September, his debilitation sign. This transit lasts till 12 November and is the most challenging phase of 2026 for Mesha. Emotional instability rises, domestic discomfort appears, issues regarding home or vehicles surface, and mental stress increases. Guru is also in the same bhāva (4th), amplifying emotional churning.
- Avoid conflicts at home. Avoid vehicle risks. Rest more. This period requires calmness.
- Maṅgala enters Siṃha (5th) on 12 November, bringing sharp intelligence, creativity, passion, and initiative. Guru also moves into Siṃha on 31 October, forming a beneficial combination for children, education, speculation, creativity, and spiritual intelligence.

The focus moves away from speculative risks and external validation toward the cultivation of "Sukha," or inner peace and comfort. This is a prime period for enhancing your living environment, whether through property acquisition, home renovations, or simply deepening your connection to your roots and family. While the energy is more private and reflective, it serves as a powerful "building phase" that provides the security needed for future growth.
- On a professional and social level, your reputation and public standing often see a steady rise, even if you are spending more time behind the scenes. This period favors long-term investments over short-term gains, leading to "Shubha-Vaya" (auspicious spending) on assets that hold lasting value.
